New Update: Handset Troubleshooting Web Site

Effective July 1, the Web site RPS employees use to assist customers with basic handset and device troubleshooting will change. The new Web site, <http://support.t-mobile.com/index.html>, should be used when customers are in the store and need help troubleshooting issues with their handsets or devices.

The content on this Web site mirrors the self-help information on My T-Mobile as well as the information Customer Service uses when helping customers with basic troubleshooting issues.

Note: The previous Handset Troubleshooting Web site (<https://t-mobile.atgnow.com/>) will no longer be available as of July 1.
